20%	30%	50%
Gold	Silver	Bronze
Top share	Next share	Next share

Shares are counted per division and rounded to the nearest whole number (.5 up). Everyone medals: athletes the shares don't reach get bronze. A division of 5 gets 1 gold, 2 silver, 2 bronze; a division of 7 gets 1 gold, 2 silver, 4 bronze; a division of 10 gets 2 gold, 3 silver, 5 bronze.

Gold: top 20%. Silver: next 30%. Bronze: remaining 50%. Events with 3 or fewer participants may be combined. Medals are picked up at the awards table as soon as each division finishes. Age group and overall Grand Champion awards are presented 30 minutes after the competition ends. Grand Champion Award: register for the Grand Championship during event registration and register in the Advanced level group. Required events: Contemporary/Traditional Wushu, one barehand, one short weapon and one long weapon; Tai Chi, one barehand and two weapons. The highest combined scores determine winners per age group and gender, and each athlete may receive only one Grand Champion Award, in the category of their highest combined score. Organizing Award: schools with 20+ athletes. Wushu Scholarships go to the top two overall athletes by total combined score: $800 for 1st place overall, $500 for 2nd place overall.

TIES · 同分

Ties are resolved in this order: 1. the athlete whose average of the invalid scores is closest to the final score ranks higher; 2. if still tied, the athlete with the higher lowest invalid score ranks higher; 3. if still tied, the athlete with the lower highest invalid score ranks higher.

In the Advanced contemporary (IWUF A and B panel) divisions, IWUF's own tie-break rules apply.
